MEMORANDUM FOR: Dr. Cline
Dr. Wheelon

I am concerned about reports of deteriorating coordination relationships between the Directorate of Intelligence and the Directorate of Science and Technology.

I remind you that the Interface Agreement of 30 October 1963 and the Executive Director's memorandum of 21 April 1964 on the Collection Guidance Staff are command documents which establish guidelines as to how relations are to be governed between the two organizations. These documents can be effective only if both sides undertake to implement them with objectivity and in the best interests of the Agency as a whole.

I expect both of you to exert your maximum leadership capabilities to ensure that relations between your two Directorates are of the highest and most effective order.
